Miniature Portraits, $3.50

Made almost half a hundred of them during the past three weeks and, so far, every one more, than satisfactory.

The young painter who has achieved this enviable record is successful in any ztyle of portraiture. These porcelain miniatures, however, are so pleasing and so unusually low-priced that they are the style ordered almost exclusively. Cabinet size ......86.00

Gold Paint

A package of excellent quality, recently imported from France, may be 180 found on this Art Floor at..... There is included a bottle of paint, ready mixed, brush and wooden case. The most you ever saw for the price.

L. S. AYRES & CO

Sole Agents for Standard Patterns.

Manufacturer of Grilles and Fret Work.

Personal Experience

We could easily tell you what other large-not larger than the facts. Our wish is that all may know by experience and examination. Personal knowledge is the best testito us. Don't take descriptions; come see. The array of Hangings, Wall Decorations and Floor Coverings which we have spread this season surpasses anything that we have heretofore done-the demand we wait upon you.

Albert Gall

Carpets, Draperies, Wall Paper, 17 and 19 West Washington Street. Hardwood Floors laid, finished and refinished.

When Others Fail

To give you satisfaction, send business.

J. C. SIPE, Importer of DIAMONDS Room 4, 181 North Meridian St.,

INDIANAPOLIS ..... IND.

ENFORCEMENT OF LAW

GOVERNOR MOUNT BEARS DOWN TERRE HAUTE POLICE BOARD.

Complaint Made by the Anti-Saloo League-Governor Says the Laws

Must Be Enforced.

Another police board has been called to account by Governor Mount. Several days ago the Governor received a petition from the Anti-saloon League of Terre Haute stood in the hallways awaiting their turn to pay him $1, $2 or $5, for the privilege of securing this place. It is said that all were missioners of that city and appoint others in their places. The charges made against the Terre Haute board are similar to the

The complaint set forth that the law was being violated by allowing saloons to keep their back doors open on Sundays, and further when a policeman's attention was called to the violation he would make promises to see that the matter was attended to at once, and these promises were never kept. As a result of the petition Governor Mount sent for the police commissioners, and yesterday two of them-O. E. Ready and John Barbazett, and Dr. Hollingsworth and Edward Dick, representing the Anti-saloon League, were given a hearing in the Governor's parlors. During the hearing it was developed that the board had granted gamblers the privilege of running their games during the G. A. R. encampment in Terre Haute. When the Governor learned of the willingness of the board to permit an open violation of the law, he became very much incensed and in very forcible language gave them to understand that the law was to be enforced at all times and under all circumstances. The representatives of the Anti-saloon League present stated that they had made observation of the saloons on Sunday and although many of the bars of the saloons were exposed to observation from the street, the rear of the rooms were shut off from view by curtains, and they had frequently seen men going in the rear doors. The police commissioners maintained that they were doing the best they could with the small force of patrolmen at their command. They said there were 180 saloons and it was almost impossible to keep them all the place where he was to work.

At the conclusion of the hearing the Governor told the commissioners he was not satisfied with the enforcement of the law in Terre Haute, but he would them a chance to do better. He said the superintendent was to be continued on probation and he would remove him if he did not do better. The Governor sent the following letter of instructions to the police board at Terre Haute last evening:

"The majority of the members of your board have this day heard read in my office numerous complaints of nonenforcement of the law in the city of Terre Haute. Notwithstanding the difficulties that confront you in your efforts to execute the law, its mandates must be obeyed. Lax enforcement of the law begets contempt for it, and results in untold evil.

"I desire you to give positive instructions to the superintendent, subordinate officers and potrolmen to faithfully perform their duties. When violations of the law are brought to the notice of any officer immediate attention, if possible, must be given to such alleged violation and the guilty parties arrested. "I trust this demand will meet with prompt compliance and that the dignity of the law will be upheld and its provisions

A Policy with a Home Company. 'The Indianapolis Fire Insurance Company will be glad to give you a rate. JOHN M. SPANN, secretary, 148 East Mar-

ELLIS MADE BIG PROFITS

WHILE CONDUCTING AN EMPLOY-MENT BUREAU IN THIS CITY.

All Was Serene Until the Police Swooped Down on His Place of Business-His Arrest.

George W. Ellis, conducting an employment office at 361/2 East Washington street, was arrested yesterday by Detectives Dugan and Asch and charged with obtaining money under false pretenses and with assault and battery upon C. W. Gearhart, of Lafayette, Ind. The arrest of Ellis was the direct result of the assault and battery, Gearhart immediately thereafter making complaint to the police. He said he came to the city Monday, went to Ellis's office in answer to an advertisement and paid him $1 upon a "guarantee" that a place to work would be procured for him. Gearhart was then sent to John Guedelhofer, a carriage manufacturer, who told him he had no need of further help and that though other men had come to him from Ellis, he had not asked him to send men to him. Gearhart returned to Ellis and asked for his money, telling him he had but little and could not stay in the city if he did not get work. He claims Ellis positively guaranteed him a position but Gearhart finally demanded the return of his money, which was refused and instead he was ejected

Detectives Asch and Dugan were put on the case and they went to the office to look into Ellis's dealings. Finally after watching for some time Ellis was arrested and taken to police headquarters, as was Charles H. Wright, who claimed he was a people say, but that would sound clerk in the office. Wright said his home was in Chicago, that he left there with a theatrical company which stranded at Delphi and he met Ellis as the result of answering advertisements. Wright has relatives in the city and his home is in Dayton, mony. It's fairer to you and fairer O., from which place Ellis recently came. daughter of the late Samuel Moore. He they know nothing about self-government his office to have conducted "employment | war and with the Seventieth Regiment Inoffices" in Dayton, Cleveland, Columbus diana Volunteers (General Harrison's regiand other cities.

from the office.

DETECTIVES ON WATCH. detectives returned to his office and waited increases. Six days in the week | there for the purpose of seeing and interviewing the people who came there. During the afternoon about 100 persons called at the office, many of them for the first time, in answer to advertisements in the papers.
Others had been there before and had been promised positions. Of those who had previously visited the office the following claimed to have paid Ellis money upon his positive promise to secure for them a place to work. A few of them paid $2 while others paid only $1: G. Britton, 1808 Howard street, $1; S. G. Gulley, 636 West Pearl street, $1; Ira Worland, 1305 North Delaware street, $2; Mrs. Josie Barber, 221 North Delaware street, $1; Adam S. Larison, 210 Lincoln street, $2; Ellis Ferguson, Cumberland, Ind., $2; H. G. Heck, 1528 Garfield Place, $1; H. Ball, 2016 Oxford street, $1; J. Webber, 420 North Delaware street, $1; G. W. Curry, 13 West Market street, $1; V. C. Berry, 924 North Meridian street, $1; William Bond, 1710 Sheldon your watches to us for repair. street, $2; Otis Conrad, 618 North East street, $2; K. Fisher, 1022 Eugene street, $1; We can please you. We can C. Koss, 222 Bicking street, $1; B. F. Morplease everyone — that's our ris. 38 South State street, $2; J. P. Collins. 2508 North Delaware street, $1; H. Smith. 365 Arizona street, $1; O. H. Bochwite, $1.25. When the detectives returned to the office from the police station they started to look through the place, but were cautioned by an elderly man named Fisk, who claimed to have been the first official shorthand reported in Marion county, that if they continued he would send for a police-man and have them arrested. Fisk finally told that he had been there two days employed as a stenographer at $2.25 per day, but as yet had received no money. Though Ellis and Wright had been taken from the office by the detectives. Fisk did not know

hey were under arrest. ELLIS'S SCHEME. According to the investigation of the de tectives, Ellis's scheme seems to have been to insert advertisements in the papers telling of desirable positions which might be secured by answering them. One of these advertisements is said to have been one which was at first attributed to E. H. Willard, recently returned to Milwaukee for trial on charges of grand larceny. The advertisement called for a young man to accompany an elderly gentleman on a trip occupying about a year at a salary of "40 mind and secured many patents on mowing per month and found." It is said that fol- and reaping machines, tools of various lowing the day of the appearance of this advertisement Ellis's office, which was then in the Phoenix block on East Market street, was crowded all day by men who advised that the man for whom the com panion was wanted lived in Cleveland, O., and that a personal letter would be necescharges made against the Elwood police sary, in addition to the payment of the fee. In some cases, applicants were referred cut of which the front of the new surgical to E. H. Willard, 614 Law Building, as the "financial representative" of this "elderly gentleman." B. F. Morris, whom the detectives saw yesterday, was one of the applicants and he said he was finally told that a man in Cleveland had been successful in procuring the place. Temple O. Altland and another young man answered the advertisement, but thinking, after talking with Ellis, there was something wrong, paid him no money but telegraphed the chief of police at Cleveland, O., inquiring about the persons named by Ellis, but received no response.

Birdie Raffensperger, living at 926 Fort Wayne avenue, claimed she answered an advertisement and upon appearing at the employment office was told that all she had to do to secure a position in a doctor's office at $6 per week was to "register," pay $1 and return Monday, which she did but did not secure the job she was looking for and which had been promised. The detectives say they learned that at the time the young woman was in Ellis's office, her mother entered and inquired for her daughter. Ellis misunderstood the word, and thought she asked about the "doctor." then proceeded to allay her fears of not getting the place, as he thought, by saying it would be all right and that she should have the place but it would be necessary to come again PROMISED A PLACE. H. G. Heck said he had been promised a job at the Cerealine mills and was sent by Ellis to the stockyards, where he hunted a long time for the mills and then returned to the office and made complaint but was informed that though he might expect a job he should not expect to be taken to

In the office at 361/2 East Washingto street, to which place the business was re moved the day following Willard's arrest, were found several thousand letters, many of them indicating that money had been paid by the writers. The detectives say they have a good case against Ellis. Though he claimed not to know Willard, it has been learned that each visited the office of the other frequently and that persons were sent from one place to the other in search of work. Ellis first came here, it is said, about Jan. 2, since which time he has taken in a large amount of money and on the day after the in crtion of the advertisement he is said to have deposited in one of the banks, $350 as the proceeds of that advertisement. He had bank books showing deposits aggregating $600 or $700. though it is not yet known how much has been withdrawn.

The Infant Is Adopted.

The infant found on a New Jersey-street doorstep a few nights ago was formally adopted in the probate department of the Circuit Court yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Spangler, who live at Alabama and McCarty streets, One of the most interested spectators was "Uncle Joe" Brown, of the county clerk's office, who prepared the papers of adoption free. The babe was named Pansy Marie Spangler.
The infant slept soundly throughout the exercises and did not even stir when the young women of the adjoining offices pressed forward to kiss its rosy mouth.

FINAL ACTION DEFERRED.

Meeting of the Directors of the Art Association.

The directors of the Art Association held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the di rectors' room of the Indiana National Bank and heard a large number of letters read from residents of Indianapolis containing suggestions as to the desirability of several sites.

The only action taken was in adopting the following resolution: "In view of the divided sentiment of the people of Indianapolis in regard to the selection of a site for the art museum the board of directors hereby instructs the finance committee to defer final action on

The Fitzgerald Property.

Another proposition has been submitted to the Art Association directors, offering the Fitzgerald property at the northeast corner of St. Clair and Meridian streets as a museum site. Mr. E. S. R. Seguin is the agent for the property, and it is under-stood the second proposition is more favor-able than the first one submitted and will receive careful consideration.

PARKER S. CARSON DEAD

HE WAS A CAPTAIN IN THE SEVEN-TIETH INDIANA REGIMENT.

His Later Years Spent in This City-Death of Dr. H. R. Allan, Sr.,-Other Deaths.

Parker S. Carson, seventy-one years of age, cied yesterday at his home, 1502 Hoyt diana, and removed with his parents at the age of six years to Marion county.

In 1852 he was married to Mary C. Moore ment) during the civil war as captain of Company G of that regiment, engaging in After the arrest of Ellis and Wright the | many battles, among them being those of the Atlanta and Savannah campaigns. After discharge from the service he returned to his farm near Southport, where he lived until five years ago, when he removed to the city.

He was at one time Republican nominee for the Legislature, and through his connection with the Methodist Church was delegate to the General Conference at His widow and seven children-John F. Thomas A., Charles A., William R., Oliver H., Edgar M. and Mary E. Carson-survive

DR. H. R. ALLEN, SR., DEAD.

He Established the Allen Surgical Institute in This City.

Dr. Horace R. Allen, sr., who for many years resided in this city, removing to Chicago four years ago, died yesterday morning in that city after an illness of several months. Dr. Allen was well known in Indianapolis and throughout the country, on account of his work as a surgeon and as proprietor of the Allen Surgical Institute at Illinois and Georgia streets, which burned in 1892, causing great loss of life. After the fire Dr. Allen erected the building at Capitol avenue and Ohio street, now known as the Imperial Apartment

He had great skill in the treatment of deformities and acquired an enormous practice and a large fortune, which was much depleted by the building of the new institute. He owned much land throughout the country and at one time was said to be worth more than one million dollars. Though he had great aptitude for making money, he seemed unable to regain his lost fortune here and he removed to Chicago, turning the Indianapolis business over to a company headed by his son, H. R. Allen, jr. At Chicago he established a surgical institute in the Masonic Temple, and his reputation brought him a large practice from which he is said to have realized considerable wealth. The Chicago venture was started with money realized on policies on his life, aggregat-

Dr. Allen was of an inventive turn of kinds and appliances for remedying deformities, upon which he spent a great deal of time and money. He was the inventor of a very successful appliance-a cure of deformities, the pad equalizing pressure and preventing inflammation upon parts touched by the pad. He was also much interested in mining ventures and laid out several additions to Indianapolis. institute was made.

Dr. Allen was born in Nelsonville, O., in 1832, and removed to Illinois, where he established a surgical institute at Charleston. He was appointed surgeon during the civil war and served with the One-hundredand-twenty-third Illinois Regiment. He retired from the army in 1863, on account of wounds received in the service, and resumed his practice at Charleston. removed to Indianapolis in 1869 and became associated with Dr. W. P. Johnson and Lr C. L. Wilson, who were interested in the institute here and a branch at Atlanta. Ga. He was a member of the G A. R and the Masons. He leaves a widow and three children, Dr. H. R. Allen, jr., Mrs. J. T. Wright and Mrs. William Taylor, all of this city. Dr. Wilson and Mr. Taylor left yesterday for Chicago and will accompany the remains to this city, where the burial will

Mrs. Anna Pitts Dead.

Mrs. Anna Pitts, fifty-eight years of age, died yesterday at her home, 1327 North Senate avenue, after an illness of many weeks. She had lived in Indianapolis since 1860. coming here from Ohio. Her husband. Fred Y. Pitts, and two children survive

YOUNG MAN LECTURED.

Judge Baker Gives Advice to Frank R. Beeming.

Frank R. Beeming, who was indicted on a charge of having robbed the postoffice at Treaty, Ind., pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Baker, and was given a sentence of six months in the Marion county workhouse and fined $10. When asked if he had anything to say he replied that he had frequented saloons since he was old enough to reach up to the bar, and on that account he had fallen into bad company and finally got into trouble. "It is an unpleasant thing to send an intelligent young man like you to the penitentiary," said Judge Baker, "and it's a sorry thing that so many young men do not realize until too late that the saloon leads to the prison." The judge then told the prisoner that there would be little hope for him in the future unless he turned his face from the saloons and kept out of bad company. Judge Baker talked in a very seemed very much affected. Adolph Baker, a boy seventeen years old, pleaded guilty to robbing the mail boxes in the Elwood postoffice. The court said he would undertake to get him into the Indiana Reform School for Boys, where he would have to stay until twenty-one years kindly way to the young man, and he was tried by a jury on the charge of rais-ing one-dollar bills to tens and passing them. The court instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty.

Philip Amick, of Idaville, White county,

BOERS

IS EXPRESSED AT A MASS MEETING AT TOMLINSON HALL.

Senator Mason Not One of the Speakers-Addresses by Henry N. Spaan and B. F. Shiveley and Others.

The pro-Boer meeting completely filled Tomlinson Hall last night with a large and enthusiastic audience. The programme, however, was long, and while the speeches were patriotic in the extreme, the audience soon tired of them and before the meeting was over it had dwindled to one-half its original size. Before the speeches the Indianapolis Military Band enlivened those assembled with such patirotic airs as "Yankee Doodle," "Star-spangled Banner," "Columbia," etc., and by the time the first speaker was announced the audience was ready to give vent to its enthusiasm by applauding anything and everything that was said. Senator Mason, of Illinois, who was advertised as one of the speakers, was not present.

Shortly after 8 o'clock Mr. Henry Seyfried, the chairman of the committee on arrangements, called the meeting to order and introduced Henry N. Spaan as chairman. In introducting Mr. Spaan Mr. Seyfried said: "Ladies and gentlemen, we are assembled here this evening as Americans for the purpose of voicing sympathy for the struggling Boers. I take great pleasure in introducing to you Mr. Henry N. Spaan as your chairman."

Mr. Spaan was loudly applauded and it was some time before he could make himself heard. He said that there had been a good deal of misinformation in the newspapers concerning the present trouble between the Boers and the English and that avenue. He was born in Rush county, In- he had taken the trouble to find out the real history of the situation. He said that we were informed that the Boers are ignorant, that they are only half civilized, that Ellis is also thought from papers found in served in the army during the Mexican and for these reasons and several others they ought to be conquered. Mr. Spaan then proceeded to paint the Boer as he knew him to be, and it was a very different picture that he held up to the audience. He said that even the English historians acknowledged that the Boers were a most devout and progressive race, but this had been said in days gone by, and the English statesmen were to-day singing quite a different tune. He described in very graphic language the struggle the Boers were making for their liberty, and compared their history with our own.

REASONS FOR MEETINGS. "And," said he, "we are told that we ought not to antagonize England by holding meetings like this. That she was our friend in the Spanish war and that therefore now we must let her rob and oppress without protest, because these Boers are nothing to us. Are they nothing to us? Every brave people, struggling for liberty, whether it is Cuban, Irishman or Boer, is something to us.

"Why do we point with pride to the Bartholdi Statue of Liberty enlightening the world, in New York harbor? Because it means something. It means that liberty, self-government, is more to be desired than civilization based upon greed for riches alone. But why should we sit silent in the face of this great wrong? Love for England? She is the same England that hired Hessians to shoot down the 'embattled farmers' of the revolution. She is the same England that by the use of gold made the name of Benedict Arnold infamous throughout the world. She is the same England that sympathized with the slaveholders of the South and did all she could to disrupt this country. She is the same England that had to pay $15,000,000 for allowing the Alabama to fit out from her harbors and prey upon our commerce. She is the same England who tried to coerce us in the war of 1812, claiming the right of search and seizure upon ships flying the American flag. She is the same England that tried to rob Venezuela of her gold mines, and she would have succeeded had it not been that at the head of our government was that magnificent American-Grover Cleveland. "This is the same England that did not know where Alaska was on the map till gold was discovered there, then at once she laid claim to all the gold fields and as soon as she gets out of trouble with the Boers if there is anything left of her, she will press her claim on us. At present she needs our friendship and she has quit sneering in her superior way at Americans. She has learned that Americans can shoot; that an American behind a gun is nearly as bad as a Boer on Spion kop.

IN NO DANGER.

"Why then should we favor this suddenly converted lover of ours? Because she favored us in the Spanish war? The truth of the matter is no one was ever scared in the Spanish war except the inhabitants of Boston. We were no more in danger from Spain than a first class man of war would be from the attack of a pleasure boat. She stood with us because she stood alone in Europe. Her conduct had always been so overbearing, so tyrannical, so greedy, so nypocritical that neighbors had fallen away from her like fleas from a dead dog, notwithstanding the fact that Good Queen Victoria is mother or grandmother of most of the kings and em-perors and lordlings of Europe. "She is the same England that has made a generous, noble race her enemies by her wrongs and oppression. Her heel is on the neck of Ireland now, but under God some day that will end. Why then should we love England?" In conclusion Mr. Spaan said: "I am ar American citteen. In my estimation it is the proudest title a man can bear. I love my country. I love its institutions. As such American I think it is my duty to sympathize with any and all people under the sun who are striving for liberty and independence, whether that struggle is in Ireland or in the Transvaal.

At the conclusion of Mr. Spaan's address Miss Ida Sweenie sang "Columbia" and was warmly applauded.

MR. SHIVELEY SPEAKS. Mr. B. F. Shiveley, of South Bend, was then introduced by the chairman. Mr. Shiveley commented on the speech of Mr. Spaan and said that he did not think there was much left for him to say, as Mr. Spaan had thoroughly explained the situation. He said the war of the Boers was not an insurrection or effort on the part of the Boer government to throw off the English yoke, but it was a means to preserve their civil rights and civil liberties. He said there was a peculiar reason for the American people to sympathize with the people of South Africa, for their efforts for freedom. their heraldry and their history, were analogous to our own, and it is the logical thing for the American people to hope for the success of the Boer arms.

At the end of Mr. Shiveley's address, Chairman Spaan read a telegram from Senator Mason, of Illinois, who expected to address the meeting last night, in which he said that he exceedingly regretted that public business would prevent him from attending the meeting, but he joined with the people in wishing success to the South African Republic.

A resolution was then read by the chairman of the committee on resolutions, extending sympathy to the Boers, and containing a suggestion that the government was to be requested at the proper time to offer its services for the settlement of a long peace, honorable to both sides, and which will bring about the development of a great sister republic-the United States of South Africa. Mr. Philip Rappaport was the next speak-er introduced, but by this time the crowd was becoming restless and he was compelled to shorten his address. Mr. Rappaport went over about the same ground as the previous speakers. He said that England was holding South Africa, not by right, but by conquest. He said that our interest in the Boers was a feeling of humanity, but besides this we had a desire to show England that our affection for her is not so sentimental as to approve every New Pianos, $165 and up, at Wulschner's. The last speaker was Frank B. Burke,

The Business Man and the > Maid the worker of sturdy appetite, the school boy, the busy housewife should

Business

Uneeda Biscuit

They add a new significance to the lunch basket, a new delight to every meal. Better now than ever. The more you eat, the better you'll like them. And Uneeda Jinjer Wayfer too. Packed in the wonderful air tight carton. Owned exclusively by NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY.

who very briefly reviewed the present situation of the Boers. He said that the subject of liberty was an inspiration for thou-The latter part of the programme, which

The Vice Presidents.

There was some comment yesterday about the list of vice presidents selected for the meeting. In several instances it was said the use of names was unauthorized.

by the band, had to be dispensed with as the band left before the meeting was half

THE RESOLUTIONS

Prepared by Columbia Club Committee on Col. Thompson's Death.

The Columbia Club committee, appointed to draft resolutions on the death of Colonel Richard W. Thompson, yesterday submitted the resolutions as follows:

"Whereas, Colonel Richard W. Thompson, whose life was so long a part of the life of this State and Nation, has passed away, we desire in some formal manner to express our appreciation of the man. He died full of years and full of honors. life almost spanned the life of the public. For threescore years and more he stood in the white light of public scrutiny without a stain on the purity of his life, without a blot on the nobility of his character. His disinterestedness, stainless integrity, consecrated eloquence and lofty patriotism made him an ideal leader. In thinking of him, we realize that age has its compensations as well as its drawbacks and that to look back upon a life well spent, free from selfishness and envy and malice, means more than to look forward to a hot struggle for honors which men seek so earnestly, but which count for so little in the final reckoning when the eternal balance is struck. "The value of such a life as Colonel

Thompson lived among men cannot be over-estimated. He never spoke an unkind word or did an ungracious act and was foremost in all good works. In the family, the church and the State he always maintained the highest ideals.

'Was never mind did see that face, Was never ear did hear that tongue, Was never mind did mind his grace That ever thought the travail long

'But eyes and ears and every thought Were with his sweet perfections caught.' "Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the records of the club and forwarded to the daily papers and sent to the family of Colonel Thompson." The committee was composed of John Griffiths, Horace E. Smith and Samuel

A PUZZLING CASE.

Two Men Are Trying to Prove that They Are the Same Thomas O'Brien.

The case of the two Thomas O'Briens, each of whom is trying to prove that he is the Thomas O'Brien who served during the war as a member of the Fourth New York Lincoln Cavalry, came up for hearing in the Federal Court yesterday. One of the O'Briens is from Togus, Me., and the other From Vevay, Ind. Both put in a claim for a pension and at about the same time. This attracted the attention of the authorities to them and as a consequence the indiana man was arrested as an imposter. The government brought a number of witnesses to the trial to establish the identity of the real O'Brien. Some of the witnesses served with O'Brien in the army, and others brought records from Washington to show that the O'Brien under arrest was not the man he claimed to be. The government witnesses swore that the O'Brien 'n the army could write his name, and the pay rolls of the cavalry company were shown with Thomas O'Brien written in full, and other witnesses testified that the signature was identical with the man from Maine. It was shown that the Indiana man could not write his name. But few witnesses were present for the Thomas O'Brien from Vevay, but they all swore that they had always known him as Thomas O'Brien, and had always accepted his story as true. The case will go to the jury to-day.

The Third Ward Republican Club, last passed resolutions indorsing Rev. M. Morton, pastor of Antioch Baptist Church, for the Legislature. The club would like to see Mr. Morton seated in the House of Representatives. He gracefully responded to the resolutions and consented to make the race. Charles B. Wells presided as chairman of the meeting.

Insure with German Fire Insurance of Indiana. General offices, 29 South Delaware street. Fire, tornado and explosion Insure with the McGilliard Agency Co. Home and foreign companies. Thorpe block.

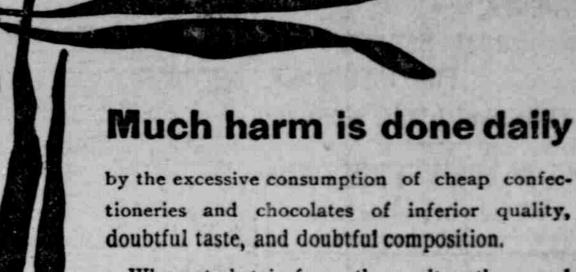

Feed your horse JANES'S Dustless Oats.

Don't Let the Rain Snow or anything else keep you away from : :: THE SPOON SALE

It continues all week. Business, Shorthand, Telegraphy, Illustrating-Indiana's Leading Jewelers. 34 Penn. St., opp. P. O. E. J. HEEB, Pres. Headquarters for Diamonds.

tioneries and chocolates of inferior quality,

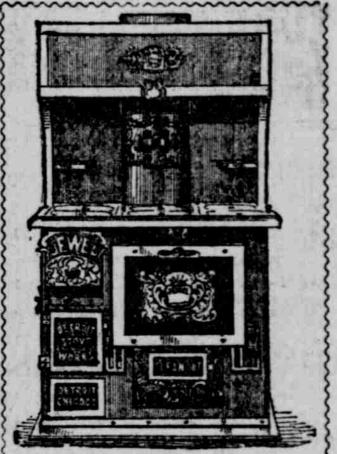

Why not abstain from these altogether, and substitute the digestible, wholesome

Van Houten's Chocolate (For Eating),

which is of delicious flavor, and cheapest in the

Sold in the following shapes:-Croquettes, in Tins. Drops, in Tins. Square Tablets Small Bars.

This product ranks among the existing brands of chocolate for eating as Van Houten's Cocoa does among the cocoas; it is the most delicious in flavor and the most economical in use.

BIG SALE

Jewel Steel Ranges $28.00 Cash.... $29.00 on Payments

$5 down and $2 a week-and our guarantee goes with each and every one.

This is a Range that we have sold for years with perfect satisfaction, You will make money by taking advantage of this sale. Come in and

Lilly & Stalnaker, 114 East Washington St.

CATARRH easily and pleasantly. Contains no mercury nor any other injurious drug.
It is quickly absorbed.
Gives Relief at once.
It Opens and Cleanser
the Nasal Passages.

Benses of Taste and Smell. Regular size, 50 cents; family size, $1; at druggists or by mail.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren street. New York

We Want You to Know THAT

Bryce's Old Homestead

IS Bread

That can be made from pure materials by expert workmen.

Bryce's Steam Bakery

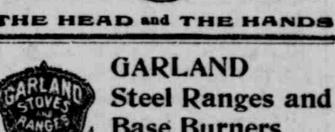

PETER F. BRYCE, Prop. Come to Us for Mackintosnes and Horse Covers All ROBES and BLANKETS at cost.

Techentin & Freiberg,

THE HEAD and THE HANDS

Base Burners Are the World's Best. C. KOEHRING & BRO. 126 N. Penn. St., 880 Virginia Ave.

COFFEE We mean the genuine, not ne counterfeit. Why offer the so-called Java and Mocha at a ridiculously low price, when the best is none too good. Make our coffee your coffee, then you can have party coffee every day. Two-thirds and one-third blend......38c per lb One-half and one-half blend........35c per lb R. P. Mueller.

305 Massachusetts Avenue. Phone 575. EDUCATIONAL. Day and Night School

CEYLON TEA STORE,

Indianapolis \

ants, use that which CATARRH Nourishing Bread cleanses and heals the CATARRH Nourishing Bread

Is required during cold weather, especially for children. The best product that ever came out of an oven is our-

Domestic Bread

Ask for it. See that the loaf bears the tag-

PARROTT-TAGGART

"Keep Your Eye on the Tag"

Messenger's,

201 East Washington St. HELLO! 3 RINGS ON 2687. I want Gray & Gribben's Jewelry Store; large selection of watches, as I want to get one for my daughter's birthery, tomorrow. All goods sold on payments, at 154 North Illinois Street. Lost!

cash prices, to good people

All the pleasure of rubbing if White Line Washing Powder 1-pound package, 5c

Gray & Gribben's Jewelry Store,

FOR THE BEST Beers, Wines, Champagnes, WHISKIES, GINS and BRANDIES, Majestic Ranges GIVE ABSOLUTE SATISFACTION.

If you intend buying a Range do not $27 miss seeing the Majestic. Price..$ Vonnegut Hardware Co., Washington St

The Business Arch

Will not stand if the Keystone of Advertising is left out. We have keystones to sell-keystones that will fit any kind of a business-and they are at your service. Advertising in THE JOURNAL is not very expensive, and it teaches the right sort of people. Try it

A message by telephone (No. 238) will bring our advertising man to your desk

